

Private showing

LIKE many of us, Eminem apparently hates listening to other people crunch popcorn and talk at the movies. Unlike the rest of us, he's got enough dough to do something about it. On Monday, following his Vegas performance the night before, the rapper was at the Palms in Las Vegas when he decided he wanted to see the "Wedding Crashers." Management at the 14-screen Brenden movie complex at the resort obligingly shut down one of their theaters for Em and his entourage. While in town, he slapped down $1 million-plus for a 1,800-square-foot condo at the under-construction Palms Place development. The complex will feature a 60,000-square-foot pool and spa, 24-hour VIP concierge service, restaurants, a lounge, valet service and of course heavy security.